THE DEADLOCK IN THE TENTH.

It Is Finally Broken by the Nomination of R. E. Doan After Over Three Hundred Ballots Had Been Taken—Other Conventions and State Dispatches.

WASHINGTON C. H., Sept. 25.—At 9:15 yesterday morning the Tenth district Republican congressional convention again assembled, with Chairman Worthington presiding. The first business transacted was the unanimous adoption of a resolution endorsing the action of the National house yesterday in seating John M. Langston.

Then the dreary balloting was resumed, the ninety-first ballot being almost identically the same as the first one taken Wednesday, which stood as follows: Wallace 62, Hurst 50, Little 41, Doan 36, Pavey 15, Creamer 15.

After nine ineffectual ballots, a motion was made to suspend the secret ballot, which, it was claimed, was not effective and took much time. Clarke fought the motion single-handed, but it carried and the secret ballot was dropped.

On motion of Judge Miller a committee of two from each county was appointed to confer with the candidates as to some method by which a result could be reached. These diplomats reported that the candidates felt that they were unable in any way to aid the convention, but the decision of that body would be satisfactory to every one of them. Then the balloting was resumed. The one hundred and fourth ballot was taken without result when Greene county asked ten minutes for consultation and left the hall.

Greene county came back promptly at the expiration of ten minutes and with them came Hon. John Little, who took the stage and in an eloquent little speech he withdrew his name from the convention.

On the next ballot Greene's votes divided between the remaining candidates, Doan getting the majority, while several complimentary votes were given. Fayette gave Hurst her solid vote on one ballot, but a nomination did not follow, and on the next ballot she went back to Pavey and Creamer. When the 10[illegible]th ballot had been taken the convention recessed till 1:30.

The afternoon session commenced at 1:35, and there was a great interest in what the opening ballot would be. It showed no material change, Green casting 11 votes for C. L. Maxwill, one of the colored delegates. Green next threw 38 to Bob Poston.

On the 144th Green threw 43 votes to Doan and Clinton 36, and Fayette had a chance to make the nomination. Before she announced her vote great excitement prevailed. Cries of Doan and Hurst were loud and long, but Fayette went back to Pavey and spoiled a nomination.

On the 251st ballot Greene county cast 45 votes for ex-Speaker Keifer, of Springfield, and Fayette 29, Keifer receiving 74.

On the 320th ballot Clinton cast 36 votes for Wallace and then went to Little.

At a quarter of 1 this morning the band struck up "Marching Through Georgia," and the convention joined in the chorus to relieve the monotony.

Fayette and Clinton went to Little, and everybody was on the tiptoe of expectancy to see what Greene would do. After consulting for some time they voted 41 for Little, giving him 106 votes, four short of enough to nominate.

The next ballot was the same. There were four stubborn delegates in the Greene delegation, who could not be induced to leave Hurst for Little.

On the [illegible] ballot a motion to adjourn till 9 o'clock this morning was lost. No material change in ballots.

At 1:20 a. m. it looked like the convention would last all night.

On the [illegible] ballot a motion to adjourn until 9 a. m. to-day, at Chillicothe, was lost.

A motion to adjourn to meet at Xenia Friday morning, Sept. 26, was also lost.

John N. Vandeman moved that the candidate receiving the smallest number of votes be dropped. Carried.

At 2 a. m. it was between Hurst and Doan. One of them must be the lucky man, and Doan got there by the following vote: Doan, [illegible]; Hurst, [illegible]. R. E. Doan was declared the nominee.

In the Fourteenth District.

ZANESVILLE, O., Sept. 25.—The Fourteenth district Republican congressional convention met at [illegible] and W. C. Lyon, of Newark, was made chairman, and George Hall, of Coshocton, secretary. The name of B. F. Swingle, of Muskingum, was the only one presented, and he was nominated by acclamation, notwithstanding the fact that a letter from him had just been read to the convention in which he stated in most emphatic terms that he would not accept the nomination under any circumstances. No resolutions were adopted. The whole affair occupied ten minutes.

In the Nineteenth District.

TERRIBLE SHOOTING AFFRAY.

A Tragedy in Which Three Men Are Fatally Wounded.

CELINA, O., Sept. 25.—Reports have just reached here of a terrible shooting tragedy at Mercer lake. Early Tuesday morning a couple of men by the name of Bodkin and Mullen, armed with a pint bottle of whisky and guns, went in a rowboat on Lake Mercer. They rowed about four miles east, and made a descent on a fish box owned by a man named Anderson, and commenced dipping out the fish at a lively rate. It seems that Anderson had been missing fish for some time, and was on the watch for the thieves.

While the men were busily engaged in taking the fish Anderson fired, the contents of which struck Bodkin in the side of the face and shoulder, and the volley struck Mullen in the back. Both men are fatally wounded, but one rallied enough to return the fire, and shot Anderson. Bodkin and Anderson are residents of Mercer county, Mullen of Van Wert, O. The latest report is that Anderson has since died. The other two are living, but there is no hope

Another Story About the Sunday Shooting at Wapakoneta, Ohio.

WAPAKONETA, O., Sept 25.—The supposed accidental shooting of little Annie Minnich by 10-year-old Philip Leininger last Sunday, is now said to have been a deliberate murder.

A sister of the girl sprang forward to stop him but it was too late. The boy tried to brain his own sister with a corn-cutter some time ago. Mr. Minnich says that it the young imp is sent to the refrom farm he will not prosecute further.

The union of these three will make a powerful and independent company, the largest ever organized in the Ohio oil field, and one that will be able to cope with the Standard. The combination will represent a capital of $5,000,000.

Shoe Factors at Portsmouth.

PORTSMOUTH, O., Sept. 25.—The past week negotiations have been in progress here for the erection of several large shoe factories. Drew, Shelby & Company are erecting a large building which will employ over 500 people. The old building formerly occupied by the above firm will be purchased by a co-operative company and the firm of O. C. McCall will probably locate a men's factory in the Dever block. From present indications Portsmouth will be one of the leading shoe centers in the west with excellent shipping facilities.

No Smallpox in Mount Vernon.

MOUNT VERNON, O., Sept. 25.—The saloon keepers have decided to close their saloons during the Knox county fair as required by law, but they are mad. They are accused of a mean effort at retaliation. There is no such disease in Knox county, and the fair managers have published a card accusing the "gin dispensers" of the trick.

PARLIAMENT WILL TAKE ACTION

The British Government Will Build New Railroads to Give the Unemployed Something to Do—The McAuliffe-Slavin Fight Will Yet Take Place — Other Foreign News.

LONDON, Sept. 25.—Mr. Morley's example in making a personal inspection of the famine-threatened districts of Ireland has proved contagious, and a large party of English and Scotch members of parliament has now been made up with the same object in view. The reports and statements of these gentlemen are expected to form an interesting feature of the next session of parliament.

The character of the visitors is of the highest kind, and their words will have great weight with the English Conservatives, who are not inclined to accept the statements of the Irish members as exactly unprejudiced. Meanwhile the government is pushing its scheme of relieving distress by furnishing employment for labor in the construction of light railways in Ireland. The total mileage thus far projected is seventy-five, and if necessary this will be extended considerably. Three different lines are contemplated, and the work will begin very soon.

Thousands of Jews, mostly of the poorer class, have left other parts of southern Russia, and they suffer greatly from privation and exposure while on their way under escort to the frontier.

Factories have been destroyed, bridges swept away, and the railways damaged to such an extent as to render them impassable. The floods have been accompanied by some loss of life. In Annonay a manufacturer and several women have been killed. The water is still rising.

Nothing Strange in This.

DUBLIN, Sept. 25.—Judge Waters, of the Waterford sessions, has reversed the sentences of three months' imprisonment at hard labor, imposed upon Editors Fisher, Redmond and Spencer for plan of campaign speeches at Wakefield. DENVER SWITCHMEN STRIKE.

The Trouble Existing for Several Months Growing Serious.

DENVER, Sept. 25.—The Union Pacific railroad has been having trouble with its switchmen here for several months past. The remedies applied have not improved the situation, and the yards have been blocked most of the time, purposely, as the company allege. Several days ago the switchmen's grivance committee demanded of General Manager Meek the dismissal of Yard Superintendent Burns, otherwise they would strike. Pending investigation Burns was suspended.

The charges made against Burns were disproved, and yesterday morning Mr. Meek addressed a communication to the men, arraigning them for their neglect of duty and informing them that Burns would be reinstated at noon, and that all who were unwilling to co-operate with him must quit the service of the company. When the whistle blew for the men to return to work at 1 o'clock not one of the 125 switchmen appeared. The company secured thirty new men and has given the strikers until to-day, noon, to decide whether they will return. The officials profess belief that the strike will not extend over the whole system.

At the Chicago Stock Yards.

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—The delayed arrival of Grand Masters Sweeny and Sargent is tending to precipitate a general strike among the Stock Yards Switching Association employes. Six switchmen were discharged yesterday, making twelve in all who have been thrown out of work for refusing to work with "Q" engineers.

It is reported that all the firemen, engineers and switchmen employed by the Switching association on twenty-eight engines will quit work sooner than work with "Q" engines and crews, unless the old engineers, Ryan and Kukaiser, are put back or Brotherhood men sent out on the engines.

About one hundred engineers, firemen and switchmen are working in the yards, and only the appearance of the two grand masters can prevent serious trouble.

BANK ROBBERS FRUSTRATED

By the Prompt Action of a Young Lady Who Lived Across the Street.

LEBANON, Pa., Sept. 25.—A very daring attempt to rob the People's bank here was neatly frustrated by the prompt action of an observing young lady who lives just opposite the bank. Assistant Cashier Elmer Hauer was alone behind the desk in charge, when a short, thick-set man, with a dark beard, entered and asked about sending a draft to some neighboring town.

A moment later another man entered, who, seeing the cashier was engaged, opened wide a newspaper and seemed to be reading. The third of the party, who had also come in, was a lightly built young man with a smooth face. The latter's movements were completely hidden from the cashier's sight by the man with the newspaper.

The man dropped upon his knees and crept around the counter toward the open vault of the bank, and to where Cashier Hauer was sitting. The young man had a sand club in his hand, but before he got near enough a young woman rushed into the bank and shrieked out, "They are robbers. There's one sneaking on his hands and knees. Look out, Elmer, they mean to kill you."

Cashier Hauer quickly turned, and the next moment the three would-be burglars dashed for the door and escaped. The young lady was Miss Hauer, the cashier's sister, who lives opposite, and who saw the strange men acting suspiciously.

A Faithful Dog.

DANVILLE, Ill., Sept. 25.—The family dog of J. J. Campbell, a farmer living near Danville, was very uneasy Monday afternoon. Mr. Campbell and other members of the family finally concluded to follow the animal, which led them about a mile, where they found their 14-year-old son lying in the field in an unconscious condition. He had started the day before in a buggy to visit his grandparents, and his horse ran away, breaking the buggy into fragments and very seriously injuring the boy. As he had laid out of doors twenty-four hours before being discovered, his recovery is doubtful.

Brakeman Cut to Pieces.

NICHOLSON, Pa., Sept. 25.—Walter Swartz, Delaware, Lackawanna and Western brakeman was found cut to pieces on the railroad near here this morning, portions of his mangled body being scattered along the track for several hundred yards. Besides the train from which he fell two other trains passed over his body before it was found.

Switch Engine Jumps the Track.

NASHUA, N. H., Sept. 25.—A switching engine on the Boston and Maine road jumped the track while passing over the bridge spanning the Jackson company's canal last night, and plunged a distance of sixteen feet into the water, where she lies submerged. The engineer went down with the engine, but escaped by swimming to the bank. He is slightly injured.

Young Sailors Drowned.

SUNDRIDGE, Ont., Sept. 25.—Yesterday morning three young men named Arthur Bowyer, Charles McDonald and Hugh Rooney, went out in a sailboat intending to cross Strong lake. Yesterday afternoon their boat was found lying on its side with Bowyer hanging dead in the rigging. The other two men are missing and are supposed to have drowned.

Suicided Together.

RITTERSTOWN, Pa., Sept. 25.—Henry Stagerwald and his wife was found dead at their home Monday evening. On a slip of paper was written: "We die together; gone to meet our children." Mr. and Mrs. Stagerwald were an aged couple and had six children, all of whom died within the past three years.

Filling a Vacancy.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 25.—Thirty-one members of the Prohibition state committee met here yesterday and nominated John D. Gill, of Westmoreland, for governor, to take the place of Charles Miller, who declined. Mr. Gill was present and accepted the nomination.

THURSDAY, [illegible]

It is a pleasure [illegible] some have [illegible] much credit [illegible] the delegates [illegible] and Grand [illegible] of these grand [illegible] expressed [illegible] testimonials [illegible] and more [illegible] when [illegible] of [illegible] was [illegible] These same persons express [illegible] greatly [illegible] are full of praise for the hospitality that was extended and the pleasure afforded them.

We speak of this because the local brethren deserve to hear from some one outside their ranks of the success they have achieved. The hotels did well, the asylum for the grand [illegible] the reception of arriving delegates and the social reception were all of a fine order, and the excursion added a finish was charming in itself and a happy send-off for the city. It is evident that a showing has been made on this occasion that will spread good words for Marion, and they will bear fruit.

To have old and eminent Royal Arch Masons say that Marion and Cleveland are the two cities that have outshone all others as places of meeting comparing the list of cities for forty years is a high compliment. It shows that we can get to the front when it is desired, and there was much achieved this time.

THE unofficial information comes from Fostoria that Mr. Foster will accept the congressional nomination that the Eighth district republicans have urged upon him. This was the result looked for. In a few days the campaign will be on, and it will be a hustler. The Eighth is a fighting district, and a battle will be waged for Foster that will make things very interesting.

Politicians in Hayti.

Hayti suffers from a superfluity of politicians; the supply largely exceeds the demand. The offices to which perquisites are attached are too few to satisfy the hordes of rapacious time servers, each anxious for an opportunity to steal enough from the public funds to support himself the remainder of his life in ease, be it in France, if the sum be large enough, otherwise in Jamaica or some other neighboring island, or even in Hayti. But once successful, he generally prefers to leave the country than to remain and run the risk of being compelled to disgorge the fortune won at the expense of his fellow citizens and his own honesty.—Cor. New York Post.

The Eccentric Boy at School.

The eccentric boy at a public school is unable to take a kick kindly; he resents having his hat knocked into the gutter or being asked why his tie is like a telescope, or being made the victim of booby traps; and the ability to take these little attentions with good temper is half the battle with a new boy at a great school who wishes to lead a happy existence. The average schoolboy, of course, does not mind these things, and, being neither a positive dunce nor a genius, gets through his school days fairly well, and neither needs nor desires the exceptional treatment which ought to be given to exceptional youths.—London Telegraph.

Insects in Drugs.

At a meeting of the Chemists' Assistants' association some rather disgusting specimens were exhibited, demonstrating the existence of "insects and eerms" in sundry pharmaceutical preparations and drugs. The first was a fair looking sample of crushed linseed, recently obtained from a large wholesale firm, and kept in a wooden cask with a wooden cover. The exhibitor gravely asked what would be the effect of applying a poultice containing "thousands of insects" to an open wound, especially if the poultice be made from hot instead of boiling water?—London Lancet.

The Chicken Crop.

Government statistics show that $560,000,000 are required to represent the annual expenditure for the [illegible] of the United States, and that [illegible] dozen of eggs, worth [illegible], are imported to this country [illegible] a wheat crop to [illegible] those figures.

The expenditure in this country each year for poultry and eggs will amount to a much larger sum than that which comes to the credit of either the wheat crop, the cotton crop or the dairy product.—Interview in New York Star.

The Age of the Spinster.

There is no period of life that determines old maidhood, the habit of each individual is to move the [illegible] along the scale of years as time [illegible] a girl of 16, who [illegible] [illegible] spinster, [illegible] changes her mind and fix [illegible] year [illegible] when 25 [illegible] reached [illegible] by degrees, 35 [illegible] [illegible]

The curiously [illegible] round shape of Chinese spectacles are proof of their native origin, and not copies from those of Europe. Indeed spectacles appear to have been worn by the Chinese long before they were in use among western nations. These spectacles are kept in place with silken cords, with plummets attached to them and passed behind the ears. But fashions change even in China, and the natives observing the superior convenience of the spectacles worn by other nations are beginning to adopt them, so before long it is possible that the kind shown in the cut will be seen no more.

A Statue with a History.

A statue has recently been erected in Germany which has a pretty history. It is set up at Kaiserslautern to the memory of the late Emperor Frederick. Some years ago, while still crown prince, he paid a visit to the hospital at Kaiserslautern, where a number of Protestant ladies care for sick children. The crown prince went about in his kindly way, stooping his tall form to talk with some of the little ones. Among them was a little cripple, son of an infantry sergeant. The crown prince asked him his name, and when the little fellow said it was Frederick, the prince took his little namesake in his arms and caressed him. The little boy was attracted to the stars and crosses which the crown prince, who was in uniform, wore on his breast, and began fingering them while the prince chatted with him. This little episode was never forgotten at Kaiserslautern, and when the emperor died they raised his statue with the little boy in his arms playing with the medals on his breast. The statue, which is of bronze and a little over life size, stands in the quadrangle of the hospital close by the spot where he took up the little cripple.

Why You Miss a Favorite Joke.

Have you noticed that the perennial joke about the alleged deadly effects of the green cucumber isn't circulating as much this season as formerly? This is not because the green cucumber has reformed, for it is still doing business at the old stand, but because even the funny men are finding out the truth about the cucumber. There may be potential possibilities of death in it, as there are even in milk and milk; but when eaten in the proper way and at the proper time it is a regal dish, and instead of being deleterious is one of the most healthful vegetables known.—New York Tribune.

Peculiar

Many peculiar points make Hood's Sarsaparilla superior to all other medicines. Peculiar in combination, proportion, and preparation of ingredients, Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses the full curative value of the best known remedies of the vegetable kingdom. Peculiar in its strength and economy—Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine of which can truly be said, "One Hundred Doses One Dollar." Medicines in larger and smaller bottles require larger doses, and do not produce as good results as Hood's. Peculiar in its medicinal merits, Hood's Sarsaparilla accomplishes cures hitherto unknown, and has won for itself the title of "The greatest blood purifier ever discovered." Peculiar in its "good name at home"—there is now more of Hood's Sarsaparilla sold in Lowell, where it is made, than of all other blood purifiers. Peculiar in its phenomenal record of sales abroad, no other preparation has ever attained such popularity in so short a time, and retained its popularity and confidence among all classes of people so steadfastly.

How Stanley Punished a Traitor.

One anecdote told by Mr. Stevens of the way in which Stanley disposed of the Egyptian officer who was convicted of having plotted to hand the expedition over to the Mahdi, is worth repeating. Stanley, who was suffering with acute gastritis, had himself carried in a chair out at the tent. Turning to the miscreant, he said:

"We have come through a thousand difficulties to relieve you and yours. Meanwhile you have been plotting to destroy us. Depart to God."

Saying these words, he pointed to a bough of a tree, where justice was done after the fashion of Judge Lynch.—Pall Mall Gazette.

Boils, pimples, and skin diseases of all kinds speedily disappear when the blood is purified by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It has no equal as a tonic alterative, the results being immediate and satisfactory. Ask your druggist for it, and take no other.

Rheumatism,

BEING due to the presence of uric acid in the blood, is most effectually cured by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Be sure you get Ayer's and no other, and take it till the poisonous acid is thoroughly expelled from the system. We challenge attention to this testimony:—

"About two years ago, after suffering for nearly two years from rheumatic gout, being able to walk only with great discomfort, and having tried various remedies, including mineral waters, without relief, I saw by an advertisement in a Chicago paper that a man had been relieved of this distressing complaint, after long suffering, by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I then decided to make a trial of this medicine, and took it regularly for eight months, and am pleased to state that it has effected a complete cure. I have since had no return of the disease."—Mrs. R. Irving Dodge, 110 West 125th st., New York.

"One year ago I was taken ill with inflammatory rheumatism, being confined to my house six months. I came out of the sickness very much debilitated, with no appetite, and my system disordered in every way. I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla and began to improve at once, gaining in strength and soon recovering my usual health. I cannot say too much in praise of this well-known medicine."—Mrs. L. A. Stark, Nashua, N. H.

Attempted Burglary.

Two burglars attempted an entrance to the residence of D. H. Earnest, on east Center street Wednesday night about 9 o'clock. Mr. Earnest and his daughter, Miss Rosa, had left the house early in the evening and gone up street and the would-be thieves had doubtless noted his absence. The attempt to enter the house was made at the side door, opening on High street, the same by which burglars had entered on a previous occasion. Mrs. Earnest was at home at the time and heard the noise, but did not make an investigation, and not until an effort was made a second time to get in did she make an alarm. In the meantime she had gone up stairs, where her son was asleep, and she raised a window and ordered the men away. One of the fellows was tall and wore a cap the other was much smaller and wore a soft hat, as near as could be distinguished. When ordered away the big fellow moved off rapidly but the little fellow took his time and did not seem disposed to hurry.

The Right Kind of Man.

Women like a man who knows their innocent weaknesses and caters to them; who will bring home a box of candy, the last new magazine or the latest puzzle sold on the street, that will do more than its duty in entertaining everybody for the whole evening.—Ladies' Home Journal.

Not So Black as Painted.

"I was agreeably surprised, Mr. Brief, at your bill."

"I'm very glad, sir."

"Yes; I was told you were a consummate swindler, but I don't think you are any worse than the ordinary bunco man."—Harper's Bazar.

A New Explosive.

THE CLOSING DAY

Of the Seventy-fourth Annual Convocation of the Grand Chapter Royal Arch Masons of Ohio.

The 74th annual convocation of the Grand Chapter of Masons of Ohio closed its business at 11 o'clock today, and representatives who had not already left the city prepared for their leave-taking. Marion has done nobly in the matter of entertainment, and members have been free to express their gratification over the reception given them—that they have had none more hearty in their history.

Wednesday afternoon's session was occupied chiefly in the election of grand officers, which occurred with the following result:

G. H. P.—J. W. Iredell, Jr., Cincinnati.
D. G. H. P.—Wm. M. Savage, Wilmington.
G. K.—O. A. B. Senter, Columbus.
S. S.—J. Robinson, Cleveland.
G. Treas.—R. V. Hampson, Salem.
G. Sec'y—Charles C. Keifer, Urbana.
G. C.—L. F. VanCleve, Milford.
G. M.—S. B. Markland, Cincinnati.
G. C. H.—Charles E. Logan, Cincinnati.
G. G.—Jacob Randall.

THE RECEPTION.

The reception given at the court house Wednesday evening, to the representatives and their ladies, and all Marion Masons and their ladies, was an elegant affair, attended by about five hundred ladies and gentlemen. The court house was given up to the happy throng, the court room, several offices and the rotunda being utilized. The Prospect orchestra discoursed during the evening, and the local glee club added to pleasures of the evening with some choice vocal music. The court house will probably never be the scene of as brilliant a company as graced its interior on this occasion. Choice refreshments were served during the evening, adding in their way to the enjoyments of the occasion. The reception was no less a success than all the arrangements provided for the entertainment of the guests.

THE CLOSING SESSION

Was held this forenoon and devoted to the closing work and also the election of the Grand Secretary—given above—which was deferred from Wednesday afternoon's meeting. The following resolution was passed unanimously by the Chapter:

Resolved, That the thanks of this Grand Chapter are cordially tendered the ladies, Masonic fraternity and citizens of the city of Marion for their generous and hospitable reception to this Grand Chapter; to the county officers for the use of the public buildings for its sessions; and that we assure them that we shall carry away pleasant recollections of their many courtesies and acts of kindness.

The session closed with the work of settling up the pay roll, the amount payed out to the representatives being in the neighborhood of $2000. The incidental expenses also amounted to about $1000.

TO INDUSTRIAL MARION.

The Masonic Excursion to Manufacturing Centers a Great Hit.

The plan of a railroad excursion to Marion's industrial quarters, to be extended to visiting Masons in the city, was a happy one and was carried out with the most gratifying results. It was the proper climax to the splendid line of entertainment that the local brethren so elegantly extended to their guests.

A train of three passenger coaches was comfortably filled with the two hundred persons that interestedly participated in the excursion. This number included the local Masons in charge and some few citizens who were quite as great strangers to the extent of some of our industries as the visitors were.

The Erie train with J. A. Knapp, Harvey Wilson and B. P. Sweney in charge, first run to the Huber works. Alighting the delegation formed in a double column and after being received by President Huber and Treasurer Barlow, were conducted through the immense works. The trip was of much interest and the immensity and convenience of the great plant much admired. An exhibition of traction engines in locomotion, lively locomotion, too, ended the sight seeing there. The visitors again entered the cars, carrying handsome souvenirs that were prepared expressly for the occasion.

The train then ran to the Steam Shovel works. Here Treasurer Elliott and other officials received the crowd. Mr. Huber headed the procession here and an interesting tour of that model plant was made. A Steam Shovel in operation was displayed to many admiring gazes. The elegant office was also visited. Here again were tasteful and appropriate souvenirs eagerly secured by members of the large party.

At this point a Hocking Valley engine was attached to the train and the trip made to Oak Hill stone quarries and lime works. The coaches were again abandoned and the great kilns, quarries and crushers visited, and this source of Marion's prosperity was found to be deeply interesting. The Evans and Norris & Christian plants were both gone over.

The late hour prevented a visit to the Malleable Iron and Marion Manufacturing Co. works, so the return train came direct to the Main street crossing, where the crowd alighted.

The trip was a great hit. It pleased the party of visitors and creditably and unostentatiously advertised the different industries and Marion. The Huber and Steam Shovel folks did the elegance in a graceful way, and the railway agents were courteous in the extreme. It was a pleasant and attractive feature all around.

Condition of Hayti.

The country is naturally rich, but not rich enough to support the hordes of shameless, self seeking politicians anxious for their own enrichment. The cause for their appearance in such numbers is easily explained. The many revolutions, with their concomitant murders, pillages and conflagrations, have destroyed industry and labor, and have closed all the avenues to the attainment of a competence by honorable pursuits. Of what use is it to the peasant to plant cane or to cultivate coffee when at any moment the general of the arrondissement may force him to abandon his crops to bear arms in support of some one who, in the set terms of the usual proclamation, has "raised the standard of revolution against the most odious of tyrants?"—Cor. New York Post.

Not So Great After All.

"I don't think," said Smith, that George Washington, great a man as he was, would ever have succeeded in the business of soap manufacturer, if he had engaged in it."

"Why not?" asked Jones.

"Because," answered Smith, "he could not tell a lye."—Boston Courier.

At Three o'Clock in the Morning.

Voice (from inside the safe)—Don't use powder, boys. I might get hurt.

Gloozey, the Nipper—Who are you?

Voice—The assistant cashier. The door snapped to on me about ten minutes ago.—Puck.

His Prerogative.

They were sitting close together on the train. It was evidently their bridal tour, if spooniness counts for anything.

"Ducky," said he, "we're getting near a tunnel."

"What of it?" asked she, oh, so innocently.

"I'm going to kiss you when we get in there."

"Oh, you"——

"All the latest and most popular novels!" interrupted the train boy. "'His Private Character,' and"——

"Yes I am," said the swain.

"And 'Thou Shalt Not!'" cried the train boy.

"Yes I shall, too!" said the angry husband jumping to his feet, "and I'll lick any one that tries to stop me."

We had to snicker.—Lawrence American.

Some Amusing Answers.

The school examiners in South Africa seem to get a selection of quite as amusing answers as any that stand to the account of the scholars in our own elementary schools. Here are a few specimens: "The day is longer in summer owing to expansion by the heat." "The upper course of a river is where it travels up country, the middle course where it goes on a level." "Once a year we have the whole bright side of the sun turned toward us, then it is summer. The sun is in the soltice, and stands still." "A bar is a piece of iron across a river mouth. It prevents navigation and has to be cut through with a steam edge."—Chatter.

Sleeplessness.

Narcotics and sedatives murder sleep; the unnatural stupor is soon followed by ill effects. Simmons Liver Regulator removes the cause of restlessness and sleepliness by regulating the bowels, by establishing good digestion and by quieting the nerves

"I have been a great sufferer from dyspepsia and loss of sleep. As soon as I feel the least nervous I take a dose of Simmons Liver Regulator, and sleep all night."

Resolutions Relative to the Resignation of Rector Wm. Lucas.

To the Wardens and Vestrymen of St. Paul's Parish:—

WHEREAS, Our Rector, Rev. Wm. Lucas, has tendered his resignation, and same having been accepted by the Wardens and Vestrymen, and

WHEREAS, Though the said resignation was very reluctantly accepted, it was done out of a spirit of kindness to our Rector, after he stated that he had given the matter careful and prayerful consideration and that it could not be reconsidered or recalled, and that it was his wish that it should be accepted, therefore be it

RESOLVED, By the Wardens and Vestrymen of St. Paul's parish, that it is with profound sorrow that we are called upon to part with one who has so endeared himself to all the members of the church, parish and Sunday school; one whose influence for good has been felt, not only in our church alone but by all with whom he has come in contact; whose kindness of heart and zeal in his christian work has taken him to many a humble home to give the sick and suffering spiritual comfort.

RESOLVED, That in the Rev. Mr. Lucas we have had a rector of rare christian character, zealous in his Master's work, wholly above criticism and of wonderful power as a conciliator.

RESOLVED, That we most heartily commend him to the Wardens, Vestrymen and parish that have chosen him to minister to their spiritual wants and bid him a sincere God speed in his new field and bespeak for him a successful ministry.

RESOLVED, That the secretary spread the foregoing upon the records, make two copies of same and present one to the Rev. Wm. Lucas and forward the other to the wardens of St. Mark's church, St Joseph, Mo.

The Gilbert Opera Co. presented the Little Duke to the largest house of the season last night. This was the third and last night of their engagement. The opening night, as we have said, "caught on" to the comparative small audience present, and the house was almost doubled in size Tuesday, and last night was packed. The whole company appeared at their best and seemed to work with a vim that even surprised themselves. Miss Sylvester was charming as ever as Little Duke, and all the others were excellent in their different roles. We hope to see the Gilbert Company here soon again.

The Little Duke will be presented at Music Hall, Friday evening, by the above mentioned company.

A woman opened a front door, and addressing a seedy man who down on all fours was seemingly looking for something said:

"What are you doing there?"

"Madam," he said, straightening up, "please be so generous as to pardon this apparent intrusion. My little girl and I were coming along here just now, and the child in her gay frolicsomeness ran across your greensward, but in her glad forgetfulness dropped a silver dollar that had been given her by the handsomest and noblest of women. "Then you know what disappointment means to a child. If I only knew where I could borrow a dollar how inexpressibly happy should I be. Madam, could you let me have a dollar?"

"No, not this morning."

"Well, could you let me have fifty cents now and give me the other half this afternoon?"

"No, I can't do that either."

"Well, madam, may I ask what you are prepared to do?"

"I am prepared to tell you to move on or I'll send for a policeman."

"You are thoroughly prepared for this, are you?"

"I am."

"After that I shall bid you good morning. It is one of my fixed rules never to bargain with any one that is thoroughly prepared."—Chicago Herald.
